

For Apex Homes, Dubai

Every lead called in 2 minutes. In their language.

Your agents pay for leads, then lose them while they are in viewings. BRX calls, texts and emails each new lead for you, then hands your agent the ones who pick up. One switch turns it on. One switch turns it off.

1. Lead Defence, the CRM

The main product. It reads your leads, ranks them, and works each one by call, text and email. Shows the rules, the price and the free month.

2. The Defender switch

A working demo with sample leads. Tap ON and it starts calling. Tap OFF and it stops within 2 minutes. This is what your manager holds.

3. The caller

What your agent sees on the phone. One person per screen, one Call button, the line to say, then one tap for the result.

4. The lead board

Every lead by stage: new, no answer, contacted, viewing, won. Your manager sees who is working and which leads are going cold.

5. Owner Atlas, the owners data

Every building in Dubai, floor by floor, with who owns each unit. Built from the Dubai Land Department register. Your agents find sellers before a listing exists.

6. Owner matching

Each lead's phone is checked against the owner register. Your agent sees "already owns in Palm Jumeirah" before dialling. On one desk, 2,252 of 69,312 leads already owned.

7. Call-now alerts

The moment a lead taps your email link or answers a text, the agent's phone shows "Call now" with a Call button. They ring while the lead holds the phone.

8. The manager's cockpit

One phone screen for the owner: calls made, texts sent, leads due, system health. Type an order and the office Mac carries it out.

9. How the engine is built

For your IT person. It runs on a Mac in your office and a company phone. Your leads stay on your machine, never on our servers.

How it would run at Apex Homes

Four steps. Your agents keep their phones and their leads.

1

Your leads. We load your lead sheet or connect your CRM. Nothing to migrate.

2

The switch. Your manager turns it on in the morning, off at night.

3

The handset. A company phone dials each lead in their own daytime.

4

Your agent. Takes the live call, taps the result, moves on.

Price

The first month is free. You pay only if you keep it.

What	Price	Pay online
First month	Free, on your own leads	Nothing to pay
Set-up, once Office Mac, screen, company phone, install	AED 50,000	Pay the set-up
Each agent, monthly Start with 5 agents, add more any time	AED 5,000	Start the monthly plan

Safety rules built in: 2 contacts per lead then silence, calls only in the lead's daytime, a reply stops the automation, no automated WhatsApp.
